MAN POSED AS PRIEST TO GET CHARITY FUNDS

Arrested with Woman in Hotel at Lock Haven.

BOTH LODGED IN JAIL

One Planned Collecting Money from Foreigners While the Other Canvassed Jewish Families—Admitted She was Not His Wife.

Masquerading as a priest in the Catholic church, while soliciting funds among foreigners for charitable institutions, a man who registered as Rev. F. A. Lunning, of Altoona, was arrested in a Lock Haven hotel yesterday and sent to jail in default of $1,000 bail. A young woman who was with him and who he said was his wife, only to admit later that they were not married, was also arrested and committed to jail. She had planned soliciting funds from the Jewish families of Lock Haven.

Lunning is a man of medium build. When he and the woman registered at a leading hotel in Lock Haven he was dressed as a clergyman, wore gold-rimmed glasses and conducted himself in a most dignified manner. During the evening the pair indulged in numerous drinks and finally their conduct became so noisy that the hotel proprietor was compelled to notify them to desist. Tuesday morning they started out to solicit funds but were arrested and taken to the police station. Lunning admitted that he and the woman were not married, but said that he had a marriage license in his valise. A telephone message from the Volunteers of America at Altoona stated that Lunning and the woman were impostors, and the two were accordingly locked up.

Shot Fine Wild Turkey.

Justice of the Peace Walter G. Tallhelm, of Julian, on Monday brought to Bellefonte and turned over to the hospital a magnificent specimen of wild turkey. The bird, partially dressed, weighed over twelve pounds. Just who shot and killed it has not been determined, but if sufficient evidence may be obtained an arrest will be made. On Sunday evening, shortly before dusk, the turkey was shot in the ridges about two miles back from Julian. The shot did not kill the turkey instantly, and instead of flying back farther into the mountains it headed toward the home of Wesley Biddle and finally dropped into a field. Mr. Biddle heard the shot and stepped out of his house just in time to see the turkey fall. Fearing detection the man who shot it disappeared into the mountains. To clear himself from any suspicion o liability Mr. Biddle carried the turkey to the office of Justice of the Peace Tallhelm and there made affidavit to a statement of the facts. Justice of the Peace Tallhelm brought the turkey to Bellefonte and after making a sworn statement before District Attorney Fortney of all the circumstances took the turkey to the hospital, where it was receipted for by Miss Beltz, the superintendent.

Nittany Valley Wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Heckman, in Nittany Valley, was the scene of a pretty noon wedding last Saturday, their daughter, Miss Florence, becoming the bride of Franklin C. Yothers, of Ridgway. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Coneway, pastor of the Ridgway M. E. church, and was witnessed by about fifty guests. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Davis, of Altoona. The best man was Ira Nippeny, of Ridgway. A wedding dinner followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Yothers departed on a honeymoon trip to eastern cities. They will reside at Ridgway.

Miss Potter a Bride.

Miss Marguerite Potter, daughter of Mrs. George L. Potter, and Sylvester A. Bixler, of Lock Haven, were married at 1.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, on East Linn Street. The ceremony was entirely informal, the immediate families and a few intimate friends only being present. The bride wore a dress of white chantilly lace and had no attendant. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bixler departed in an automobile for Tyrone. They will spend their honeymoon at the seashore and later will reside at Lock Haven.

Mrs. H. W. Tate, who visited in Philadelphia several weeks, arrived home last Saturday night and was accompanied by her sister, Miss Harmer.

MRS. P. D WADDLE DEAD

Passed Away Tuesday Morning Following Illness of Few Days.

Death claimed one of Bellefonte's best known and most highly esteemed young women when at 8.40 o'clock Tuesday morning Mrs. Philip D. Waddle passed away at the home of her father, Wilbur T. Twitmire. For a day or two previously her illness had been regarded as extremely critical, and while to those at the bedside her death was not unlooked for it came as a profound shock to a host of admiring friends. She was taken ill with pleurisy on Tuesday of last week, having caught cold as a result of a weakened system resulting from an illness of about six weeks ago. It then became known for the first time that her heart had become overtaxed and the attending physicians expressed grave fears for her recovery. She was conscious until almost the last and passed away surrounded by those nearest and dearest to her. Funeral services will be held today at 2 o'clock from the Twitmire home, Rev. Dr. E. H. Yocum, of the Methodist Episcopal church, the deceased's pastor, officiating

It falls to the lot of few Bellefonte young women to take such an active part in every movement for the religious and social welfare of her home community as was that of Mrs. Waddle. Endowed with a genial, sunny disposition she made and won friends without number. Gifted with a sweet voice she was identified with every movement planned for the help and entertainment of others. For the good she did her memory will long be cherished in countless homes in Bellefonte. Before her marriage about five years ago the deceased was Ella Turbot Twitmire. Had she lived until November 27th, next, she would have become 39 years of age. Surviving to mourn her passing away are her father, her husband one sister and three brothers: Mrs. Harry Pickle, of Millersburg; Alton A. Twitmire, of Asbury Park, N. J.; Joseph Twitmire, of Sunbury, and Dr. Wilbur D Twitmire, of Lancaster.

Mrs. E. G. Osmer Dead.

Mrs. Lydia A. Osmer, wife o. E. G. Osmer, a well known and highly esteemed resident of Bellefonte, died at the Bellefonte hospital on Monday morning at 2.30 o'clock. Her death followed an operation on September 25th, last, for the removal of gall stones. Despite her advanced age it was the hope of her family that she would be restored to better health than she had enjoyed for some time and that her life would be prolonged. The ordeal was too much for her system, however, and she passed away at the time noted. Funeral services were held from the late home on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. E. H. Yocum, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Interment was made in the Union cemetery. The maiden name of the deceased was Lydia A. Eckenroth. She was born in Centre County and at the time of death was aged 77 years. Surviving to mourn her passing away are her husband and these children: John J. Osmer, of LosAngeles, Cal.; Mrs. Elizabeth Hibler, Charles H. Osmer, of Bellefonte; A. G. Osmer, of Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. H. C. Williams, of Bellefonte; Miles E. Osmer, of Oberlin, Ohio, and C. H. Osmer, of Johnstown. There survive also these brothers and sisters: James Ekenroth, of Pleasant Gap; Thomas Eckenroth, of Unionville; Mrs. Joseph Miller, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Margaret Tressler, of Pleasant Gap.

Ward Daughenbaugh Dead.

Ward Daughenbaugh, of Beech Creek, a section foreman on the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad, died early last Saturday morning from typhoid fever after an illness of three weeks. The news of his death was received with sorrow by a host of admiring friends. He was a strong, muscular man and had enjoyed the best of health until stricken with typhoid fever. He was a fine type of a Christian citizen and was held in high esteem. Deceased was a son of Thomas Daughenbaugh and was born near Mt. Eagle. At the time of his death he was aged about 35 years. He was an active, faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church, member of the Blanchard Lodge, I. O. O. F., No 427, and Washington Camp, No. 385, P. O. S. of A. Surviving to mourn his passing away are his widow and one daughter, Julia, aged 12 years; also his father and these brothers and sisters:—Walter, Samuel and Lloyd, Alma and Mollie and two others, residing at home. Funeral services were held from the late home on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Mary Crotzer Dead.

Mrs. Mary Crotzer, of Johnstown, formerly of Lock Haven, died at the Lock Haven hospital last Sunday, aged 76 years.

Brumbaugh to Re-organize Highways Dep't.

"If there is anything wrong in the State Highway department or any other department of the state government why don't Auditor General Powell and State Treasurer Young expose it and refuse to pay the bills which they are passing right along," asked Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican candidate for Governor, Friday night at Franklin.

In discussing the highways of Pennsylvania Doctor Brumbaugh was equally emphatic. He said: "I am not satisfied with your present road proposition, and I intend to see that when it is reorganized it shall be officered and conducted by men not only known to me to be conscientious and efficient, but also known to you to be that kind of men."

"Are you men that live here in the western tier of counties satisfied with the roads you have in Pennsylvania?" continued Doctor Brumbaugh. (Cries of "No." "No.") If you are, then you don't want to vote for me for Governor.

"I stand also for the continuance of the repair of these roads, the placing over them, section by section, of men who will see to it by reason of their knowledge of road building that these roads are always kept in good condition, so that as long as they are used as a part of the highways of our people it will be easy for the farmer to bring his crops to the markets and the people to go freely to and fro about their daily business."

Democratic Endorsement of Chas. H. Rowland

(From the Osceola Leader-Courier.)

Democracy has been dyed in our wool since infancy, and we would not have it otherwise. To eradicate those principles at our time of life, would cause us to feel untrue to ourselves. We propose, however, to have the Leader-Courier support the Republican candidacy of our friend Charles H. Rowland, for Congress from the 21st Congressional District of Pennsylvania. We do this without feeling untrue to our Democratic principles, and without waiving, in any degree, the support of this paper of the regular Democratic ticket.

In thus departing from our heretofore uniform support of a Democrat for this office, we are only responding to our best ideals and a life-long friendship when we endorse the candidacy of Mr. Rowland. It is due to our friends and patrons that the reasons which move us to such action be made clear. By education and training, we regard Mr. Rowland as eminently fitted to represent this district in Congress. He has the courage, intelligence, and manhood to represent all the people fairly and honestly. Trained in his early days in the school of labor, elbow to elbow with the man of toil, tested in his experiences by reverses and successes, he is supremely fitted to pass intelligent judgment on the labor needs of this mining district; while during later years his connections and associations in larger and more varied avenues of industry, equip him with a knowledge of what is sane and best upon issues relating to employers. He is always fair in his conceptions and honest in his transactions. Those qualities which advanced him among men never changed the man. In the retrospect of thirty years, we find him the same, always willing to aid a friend, fair in his relations with men, genial in demeanor, full of the brotherhood of man, and the kind of person who leaves a good atmosphere with you after you have met him. He commands the respect of all classes of people in our community.

We should do violence to our sense of right and our appreciation of the fitness of things, did we not lend him personal and professional support in this campaign. Aside from all personal grounds, he is progressive enough to endorse all sane movements for the welfare of the country, sound in his economic principles, unassailable in his personal integrity, with a splendid record as a private citizen and as a public man. He is endowed with personal traits which give him a commanding position in affairs, and qualify him in a high degree to uphold the best traditions of the 21st district in the House of Representatives at Washington. We shall lend him our best support in his efforts to carry his Republican standard to victory at the polls next November.

Business Demands Re-election of Penrose.

Throughout Pennsylvania there is a demand for the re-election of Penrose. It comes from two vital forces—the business man and the working man. Both have been hard hit by Democratic free trade. Relief is needed, and the sooner it is at hand the better. The polls on November 3d offer to those who want a change their first practical opportunity to say so. If you, as a wage earner, are satisfied with present conditions and want them continued you should vote for A. Mitchell Palmer for United States Senator. If you want a change to better times then vote for Senator Penrose. Mr. Palmer makes no secret of his attitude. He is committed to the support of the Wilson-Underwood free trade law. Senator Penrose is committed against it. Mr. Palmer believes that free trade is all right, Senator Penrose believes that Pennsylvania needs a protective tariff. You are able to judge for yourself from personal observation which policy is needed for your prosperity.

Senator Penrose has his defects, just as Mr. Palmer has, just as you have, just as every man has. But Senator Penrose stands for a policy which has proved a winner for the business man and the working man, and to our mind that is the thing to be considered when you come to cast your vote. Regardless of all that has been said against him by his enemies, and much of it is pure political buncombe, the re-election of Senator Penrose because the benefit it will be to you and every other man who is working for a living, is, in our judgment, of paramount importance at this time. Vote as you honestly believe will be best for your individual welfare.

INDIANS HERE SATURDAY

Redskins, Eighteen Strong, Headed This Way to Play Academy Football.

There will be eighteen full-blooded Indians in the Carlisle Reserve team squad scheduled to arrive in Bellefonte on Saturday for the big football game in the afternoon with the Academy eleven. This will be the first time a team of Indians has played in Bellefonte and judging by the interest aroused there will be a great crowd at the game.

The posters announcing the game state that the admission to the grounds will be 50c. Headmaster J. R. Hughes authorizes the announcement that admission will be 50c for gentlemen and 25c for ladies. The game will be called at 3 o'clock, sharp, and will run four 15-minute quarters.

Had to Return Horse.

Several days ago a party of gypsies camped near Howard, and one of the number endeavored to interest W. E. Confer in a horse trade. He offered to keep Mr. Confer's horse while one owned by the camp might be tried out. When Mr. Confer returned with the horse the gypsies had disappeared. Chief of Police Dukeman located one of the gypsies in Bellefonte and trying to dispose of Mr. Confer's horse at a livery stable. He took charge of the horse and the "gyp" gladly paid the costs rather than face legal proceedings.

Appointed as Justice

Governor Tener last week appointed Thomas A. Hosterman, of Penn township, as Justice of the Peace.

ASK ABOUT LIGHTS

Councilmen Question State Centre Electric Co. Superintendent.

At Monday night's meeting of borough Council H. J. Thompson, superintendent of the State-Centre Electric Co., was present and questioned by members in regard to complaints of poor lighting in streets and homes in Bellefonte. Mr. Thompson attributed some of the trouble in street lighting to the incomp'eted changing of current systems. As to lighting in homes, he said that the present voltage was the same as that furnished by the former owners of the plant, and expressed surprise that there had been any complaints. He explained that it likely will be about two months before the new system is completed and in full operation. Councilmen Lyon, Naginey and Harris raised the question of the new pattern of meters installed, saying that citizens had complained because their electric light bills were larger than ever and with no apparent increase in consumption of light. Mr. Thompson replied that the meters installed were of a standard make and added that if they failed to register correctly it was due to neglect to properly adjust them. Councilmen Naginey was pointed in his remarks, saying that the new current system has been extended to include his store, but that he "has to take a candle to find the electric globes." Mr. Thompson said that he would remedy the street lights by placing larger globes in some of the business sections. Nothing came from the exchange of comment regarding lighting in homes.

On the heels of the discussion of not enough light, Secretary Kelly read a letter from G. Murry Andrews complaining that the electric lamp at Allegheny and Howard Streets furnished entirely too much light and asked Council to afford him some relief. No action was taken, Council being of the belief that Bellefonte needs more, not less, light.

Another letter read was one from Miss Anna J. Valentine complaining about the dumping of refuse nearby the Bellefonte hospital. She set forth that those responsible had given economy as a reason for not hauling the refuse to the Match Co. dumping ground, and added the comment that economy had not interfered with the planting of red sage in the hospital grounds. Her letter was referred to the Sanitary Committee.

Mr. Naginey submitted a bid of $100 from J. M. Heinle for installing a system whereby the two telephone exchanges might sound fire alarms from the Logan and Undine companies houses. The present fire whistle will be out of commission in about three weeks, unless a new location, where steam is under way all night, may be found.

Burges Blanchard turned over fines amounting to $19 for the two last weeks. The Undine Fire Co. asked that Council turn over in a lump sum the present monthly allotment for steam heating, explaining that it was desired to install a boiler. Council viewed the proposition with favor, but took no definite action on it.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Elliott Gardner, of Beech Creek, Meets Death in Forge Run Mines.

While working in the clay mines of the Pennsylvania Fire Brick Co., at Forge Run, ten miles from Winburne, Elliott Gardner, of Beech Creek, was instantly killed by a dynamite explosion last Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock. He was alone in the mines at the time and, it is supposed, was tamping a charge of dynamite when it exploded prematurely. Discovery of his lifeless body was made when he failed to come out of the mines. Superintendent W. A. Dugan made an investigation, fearing that something was wrong, and the body of Gardner was found in the "room" where he had been working. The full force of the explosion apparently had caught him in the face, and the general condition of his head and body indicated that he had died instantly. The body was removed to Winburne where it was prepared for burial and then taken to the Gardner home at Beech Creek.

Word of his death was telephoned to Beech Creek, but the widow of the unfortunate man was not apprised of the accident for several hours, fear being entertained that the shock might have a harmful effect on her nervous system already weakened by a surgical operation a few months ago. In addition to the widow there survive three children:—Violet, aged about 7 years; Mildred and a son, about 3 years old. Surviving also are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gardner, of Howard. Deceased was aged about 35 years. He was a member of Lewanee Tribe, No. 518, Improved Order of Red Men, of Beech Creek, and a member of the Disciple church at Blanchard. He was well and favorably known and by all was held in high regard.

MET HORRIBLE DEATH IN PAPER MACHINERY

G. C. Krider, of Flemington, Victim of Sad Accident.

BODY TORN TO SHREDS

Hands Caught in Pulp Grinder and Body Dragged into Machine—Workman who Witnessed Accident in Lock Haven Mill Fainted.

G. C. Krider, aged 23 years, of Flemington, was ground to death in a pulp grinding machine at the Lock Haven paper mill on Sunday. He was feeding damaged paper into the machine when his hands were caught and his body drawn into the hopper. The machine had to be taken apart before the unfortunate man's body could be removed.

The accident was one of the most horrible known in all this section. A fellow employe who was standing some distance from Krider fainted dead away when he saw the unfortunate man's body being dragged into the spikes of the hopper. There was no one on hand to stop the ponderous machinery and Krider's body was slowly pulled into the machine and ground into shreds. The unfortunate young man had been employed on the machine but a few months and, it was said, had disregarded instructions not to feed material into the hopper with his hands.

Hunter Killed by Fall.

While out hunting last Friday Thomas A. Cullen, of Tyrone, fell into a deep stone quarry at the old Stewart farm in Sinking Valley and when found the next morning was dead. He was a farmer and was a son of the late James and Mary Cullen, having been born at Spruce Creek March 4th, 1873. He resided at Spruce Creek until about four years ago, when he removed to Tyrone. Surviving are a widow, who before her marriage was Myrtle A. Sharrer, of Huntingdon, and these children: Charles, Mary, Margaret and Anna. There survive also these brothers and sisters: James and Bernard Cullen, of Philadelphia; Miss Annie Cullen, Mrs. James Rooney and Mrs. Agnes Wooden, of Tyrone. Deceased was a member of the Catholic church.

Killed in Auto Accident.

Dr. James P. Brallier, aged 35 years, of Alexandria, near Huntingdon, was instantly killed and four others injured in an automobile accident early Sunday morning. In attempting to make a sharp turn in the road, on Turkey Valley pike, ten miles from Hollidaysburg, the car turned turtle. The injured were William H. Wolverton, Jr., aged 21 years, of New York Ex-State Senator Henry J. McAteer, aged 76 years, Postmaster Charles Roseborough and R. B. Roper, all of Alexandria.

Killed by Freight Train.

Ellis C. Tyson, of Flemington, a P. & E. trackwalker, was run down and instantly killed by a freight train near Farwell last Friday evening. His head was severed from the body. He was aged 29 years and is survived by a widow and one child. The body was removed to the home of his father-in-law, James McCracken, at Flemington, for interment, which was made on Tuesday afternoon.

Centre County Banquet.

Centre Countians of Philadelphia will hold their next annual banquet on Thursday, January 28th, 1915. The officers and directors of the association met on last Friday afternoon in the office of William S. Furst, Esq., and decided to have a dinner, speeches, readings, vocal and instrumental music and dancing for the attractions of the evening.

Buffalo Flyer Derailed.

The Buffalo flyer, east, was derailed at Ferney, fifteen miles west of Lock Haven, Sunday afternoon, the accident being caused by a broken axle on the engine. Several passengers were injured slightly. Every car of the trainle ft the tracks. There were over 150 passengers in the train at the time.

Hotel Deal Off.

The proposed deal for the sale of the Dimeling Hotel, at Clearfield, to Paul Reed, of Osceola, was declared off last week. Mr. Read became dissatisfied with some features of the negotiations and concluded to drop the matter.

Firemen Choose Officials.

Bellefonte's fire companies have selected John J. Bower as fire chief, Ralph Haag as first assistant, and Luther Smith as second assistant.

News and Views of Women.

By Julia Catherine Gray.

A story of how a poor man struck luck was recently told by a Phila. teacher to whom it came directly. He was illiterate and of the labor-by-day type, with a family to support. He lost his job, but finally secured night work with the Curtis publishing Co. When that company decided to reduce its working force, the illiterate man was the first to go, as he had been the last to come. A certain councilman of the ward in which this man lived heard of his predicament, saw his opportunity, and sought him out. The Councilman's first question was "can you use the typewriter?" When the illiterate one stated that he knew nothing of such work, he received the reply, "Come to the City Hall tomorrow and we'll teach you." The man presented himself at City Hall where he was given a typewriter and taught to punch it with one finger on each hand. For this work he has been receiving a salary of $100 per month. By his own statement he doesn't earn it and has not enough work to keep him busy. The man himself is conscientious enough to know that it is not right but his living must be made. To the councilman it meant another vote.

It would be interesting to collect some statistics on the subject and thus learn how many such votes are being bought at the rate of $1200 a year. The taxes of the people are pouring into the city coffers and being generously handed out for the benefit of "the machine."

Two or three years ago, when the Penna. Legislature was asked to make an appropriation for child welfare, the cry went up that there was no money. An investigation showed that ten eight-day clocks were located in the capitol and that each one had its individual winder at a salary of $3.00 a day. Of course, it is absurd to ask for mother's pensions and better conditions for working women and children when the government has such heavy expenses.

"Why don t you women stop the war," said a man to a woman a day or two ago. "Why we have no vote, no voice in civil matters; how can we stop the war?" replied the woman. "Women would not have war for they are the greatest losers by it."

"It is true," "said he, and the prayer which was composed for use throughout this country last Sunday—I don't know who composed it—contained no expression or thought on the subject of the heavy burden which falls on women and children as a consequence of war."

I smiled as I thought to myself that woman is so accustomed to being ignored and repudiated by her Uncle Sam (who certainly conducts himself like a step-uncle) that it was no surprise to her not to be remembered in his prayers.

Men are responsible for war, but women are as much victims of its fearful consequence. Since the European wars broke out, we have not heard the voice of the anti raised in protest against suffrage because women cannot take part in the defense of her country. She is demonstrating her ability forcefully to attend to both domestic and civic duties. While numbers of her are at the front, right on the fighting line, some in the saddle and wearing the sword, many others are gathering the harvests, keeping business operating, and conserving the food supply. In all parts of Europe, women are in the fields, the workshops, the factories, post and telegraph offices, the railway stations, and operating the street cars. She is demonstrating her ability and self-reliance in a way which will not make it easy for the man, when the war is over, to say to her, "You go stay in the home now; we men will take these places."

We do not even hear the antis counselling women to "stay in the home" now. Thousands of men will never return home. The women they have left behind will have to reconstruct those homes as best they may, by working in the factory by day and for their households at night, a double duty which men have never yet undertaken, but which many thousands of women have been doing for the last 25 or more years.

Women contribute their full share of taxes out of which the government feels perfectly free to appropriate large sums of money for war; it also feels perfectly free to take fathers, husbands, sons and brothers for war, but it sets apart only a grudging stipend for the helpless women and children who are set adrift by the ravages of war. Even worse, it places them at the mercy of the war-maddened fiends who delight in the opportunity to give vent to their lustful passions.

Mrs. Frank Leslie, who recently died, has materially advanced the cause of "votes for women" by willing it $800,000.

Pennsylvania Suffragists have been making plans for what they believe will be their last convention. This convention, which is to be held in Scranton, will be the 46th annual, and will take place from November 19-24. Headquarters will be at the Hotel Casey. On Sunday, the Scranton churches will make some special reference to woman suffrage in their services. A men's meeting will be held Monday evening, and the last meeting will be a mass labor meeting on Tuesday evening. There will be some famous women speakers.

At the State Federation meeting held in Pittsburgh this week, Mrs. Samuel Semple, President, is reported as attacking the servant girl problem from a new standpoint. "Domestic service," she said, "is an agreement between individuals; industry is an agreement between a corporation and an individual. Women soon will be asked to prove their sincerity for industrial betterment by making other agreements with their own employes. I have seen the faces of women aglow with feeling over a shopgirl, grow hard and cold at the mention of domestic service. When are we going to be big enough to look with impartiality upon ourselves as employers?"

Mrs. Semple is reported to have deplored the fact that the Western Penitentiary has modeled its new buildings on the old prisons, which are relics of barbarism.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Bellefonte Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Bellefonte adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

Mrs. J. F. Thal, 23 W. Thomas St., Bellefonte, says: "I suffered from backache and severe pains across my loins. I also had headaches and dizzy spells, when I got up in the morning. My kidneys caused me a lot of annoyance. My attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills and I began taking them, procuring my supply at Green's Pharmacy Co. One box removed the backache and corrected the trouble from my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me a lot and I always have a good word for them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Thal had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Accidents to Hunters.

Scott Anderson, 30 years old, of near Delta, York county, was probably fatally wounded last Friday afternoon while hunting for squirrels in a woods near his home.

Anderson, it is said, was sitting behind a tree waiting for squirrels. Clifford Relmeld, another hunter, spied Anderson's fur cap and mistook it for a squirrel. He shot at the cap and the contents of his gun riddled the left side of Anderson's face and body.

David Fegley and John M. Gipple were hunting near Huntingdon on Tussey mountain. Gripple, peering through foliage, thought he saw a squirrel and fired a load of shot at it. The supposed squirrel gave a yell and Gipple quickly discovered he had mistaken Fegle's long gray whiskers for game. Fegley was shot through the cheek, in the elbow, shoulder and knee, but will probably recover.

Dr. Charles C. Waggoner, a physician and eye specialist, was shot in the eye by a companion at a hunting camp near Corry.

New Modern Dances.

The leading Expert and instructor in New York City, writes:

"Dear Sir:—I have used ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, for the past ten years, and can say from experience that it is a blessing to all who are compelled to be constantly on their feet. I dance eight or ten hours daily, and find that ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE keeps my feet cool and comfortable, takes the friction from the shoe, prevents corns and Sore, Aching feet. I recommend it to all of my pupils."

CROW'S CHARGES EXCITE VOTERS

Tears the Mask of Deceit From Congressman Palmer.

SHOWS HIM UP AS A LOBBYIST

Hypocrisy of Democratic Candidate For United States Senator Made Plain to the People of Pennsylvania—Mud Slinging By Democrats Nothing New—Notes of the Political Campaign.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—Two scathing arraignments of A. Mitchell Palmer by Republican State Chairman William E. Crow, in which the mask of deceit used by the Democratic candidate for United States senator to cover a record of corporation control was torn away, have been the recent features of the political campaign in Pennsylvania. Senator Crow was in the senate while Palmer was lobbying for the railroad companies, and the information is, therefore, first hand and official.

According to Senator Crow, the present Democratic candidate for United States senator fought the two-cent fare bill; the employers' liability bill; the trolley freight bill; the railroad commission act; the bill to limit franchises of public utility corporations; the bill to prevent unfair distribution of cars to patrons of railroads; the measure to break up the combination of railroad and mining companies; the bill to prohibit unreasonable discrimination on freight; the bill to abolish railroad crossings, and also the proposed act to prevent the gobbling up by railroads of competing lines.

As the Scranton Tribune remarked editorially, after commenting on the statement of Senator Crow: "Palmer is a nice man to go parading about the state asserting his own private and political virtues and assailing men who always have labored for the best interests of Pennsylvania and its people. Like others before him, he will find that he cannot 'fool all of the people all of the time.'"

Old Tactics of Democracy.

The hypocrisy of Palmer and others of his ilk in trying to becloud the issue by assailing men of respectability is nothing new in Democratic politics. For forty years mud slinging has been the chief weapon of Democratic campaigning.

Away back in 1880 the martyred president, James A. Garfield, was labeled a thief prior to his election. In 1884 James G. Blaine, the Republican candidate for president, was pictured as the tattooed man of political crookedness. President Harrison did not escape character assassination, and even the lamented McKinley was charged with having received a hundred thousand dollars in a sell out to Mark Hanna and vicious moneyed interests. But the people are not fooled every year. In 1896, following the disastrous tariff for revenue only administration of Grover Cleveland, the voters wer quite willing to elect William McKinley, even though he was pictured in the Democratic newspapers clothed in a prison garb plastered with dollar marks. The country then had passed through the same sad experience that it is passing through now as the result of tariff tinkering.

It has not been so many years ago since it required a Democratic candidate for governor four years to dig himself out from under the Republican majority that was piled on him, but it will take Vance McCormick a much longer time than that.

It appears to be a crime for the friends of Senator Penrose to spend money legitimately to advance his re election, but Vance McCormick can spend tens of thousands of dollars to bag the Democratic nomination for governor, and never a whimper from the self-named "saints."

In Philadelphia police circles there is a great fear that on election day there will be rioting and disorders caused by the wild rush of the thousands of unemployed to vote against the prosperity-wrecking Democratic ticket.

Colonel Roosevelt, it will be noted, has neither ex-communicated Dick Quay for his apostasy to the twin Bull Moosers, Flinn and Van Valkenburg, who want all the grass on the range for themselves, nor smitten him even with his royal displeasure for his new effort to lead the unhappy herd back to the old ranch.

There are nearly fifty-seven varieties of Democrats in Philadelphia, many represented by either secret or open organizations, and the stiletto is the emblem of each. Looks like an Italian or a Chinese tong fued. The federal corn crib is the cause for this demoralization and division.

Signs of "To Let" on empty dwellings in the great mill districts of North Philadelphia are, like the sands of the sea, appalling in their numbers. The silence of the stricken tariff textile mills, and of Cramps shipyard and the Baldwin Locomotive works have caused this statgnation in real estate. Families, in order to reduce expenses and keep from starvation, are not only doubling up, but three and four families are now living in one house. And this is the prosperity that was guaranteed under the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill.

Those engaged in organized charity work in Philadelphia report that destitution, through the enforced closing of mills and workshops and curtailments of various lines of industry because of Democratic tariff tinkering, is even more acute and widespread than it was during the Cleveland free soup house period. The workingman who votes the Democratic ticket now is simply voting bread from the mouths of his wife and children.

The reorganization wing, constituting the fifty-seven varieties of Democrats, having hogged all the federal patronage of the state, notwithstanding that the Old Guard at the Baltimore convention loyally helped Bryan to put over Woodrow Wilson, now views with apprehension and pain "that tired feeling" toward the Palmer-McCormick ticket that is shown by those who have been denied the "goodies." In vain their band plays "Yes, We Shall Gather at the River."

The quip told of Colonel Roosevelt that when he attends a wedding he is jealous because he is not the bridegroom, and a funeral because he is not the corpse, no longer will dismay him as applying to the funeral. He will soon have the privilege—in November—of attending the funeral of the Washington party.

It is worthy of note that the great majority of "leading" citizens of Philadelphia who love their town so well that they are opposing a Philadelphian for United States senator, were born elsewhere, but have accumulated their fortunes and their reputations in the state's metropolis. They have a catch phrase—"Philadelphia-My-City." As to city pride, they have none and may be likened to the Ishmaelites.

It is not singular that the liberty-loving German-American citizens, who have brought their "Personal Liberty party" into active play in this campaign, should have taken Republicans for their state candidates. The Democratic party always has been the avowed enemy of personal liberty. During the War of the Rebellion the north was filled with Democratic copperheads who believed in slavery and opposed the Union cause.

If any chance existed at all of the political allies sweeping Pennsylvania "straw votes" taken in cigar stores, in mills and on railroad trains, supporting the claim would now be the order of the day, and even the politically inexpert would be able to "feel it in the air." But a "straw vote" has not yet appeared in a newspaper of the allies.

Not many ministerial associations or civic reform bodies have as yet gone on record as condemning the use of slush money by Vance McCormick to buy the Democratic nomination for governor. Is it because McCormick's money is sacred or is regarded as manna from heaven?

Could anything be more grotesquely ridiculous as Teddy Roosevelt at his Philadelphia meeting thundering against the political boss and Bill Flinn seated on the stage immediately behind him. Is it any wonder that many people laughed at the denunciations. Bill Flinn, you know, is known in Pittsburgh politics as the "slave driver."

A Democrat must be a certain stripe of Democrat, a Palmer-McCormick Democrat, to obtain a federal job in Pennsylvania, and none others "need apply." And yet they wondor why the Old Guard adherents are not singing like Jersey humming birds for the Palmer-McCormick ticket.

While "Mitch" Palmer is overstraining his heart action to show that Democratic prosperity and good times is still with us, the employment agencies in the larger cities of the state are choked with applicants for jobs.

The more an alleged independent newspaper claims its independence the more furious partisan and arrogant does it become. So it is in this campaign. Every paper that is opposing the Republican ticket has degenerated into a common alley scold and a candidate for the ducking pool.

If the Palmer-McCormick wing of the Democratic party imagines that the spirits and loyalty of the Old Guard can be kept up until election day entirely on the smell from the kitchen it has got another think to register.

Palmer and McCormick should recall the celebrated admonition of Sam Randall when the late President Cleveland was refusing Democrats jobs during his first term, that "In order to maintain an army it must be fed." The Palmer-McCormick kitchen is only open to original Palmer-McCormick Democrats, and yet the Old Guard while feasting on the husks is expected to enthuse over a calico ticket.

It is the same story everywhere. Republicans who in 1912 were lured into the Progressive camp by the sugared voice of Theodore Roosevelt, are flocking back by hundreds and thousands to the old party. In some sections the Washington party leaders trying to round up their followers resembles a farmer shoveling up fleece with a shovel.

The cost of foodstuffs for cockatoos and parrots has been reduced. This may be a vindication of the Democratic promises for cheaper cost of living, but it will not satisfy many voters.

DEMORALIZED THE ENEMY.

An Unexpected Charge That Resulted In Rout and Annihilation.

There have been many curious bits of strategy in warfare, but none more effective than the coup of the Terceirans when threatened by the Spaniards.

Early in the morning of the 25th day of July, 1581, the inhabitants of the village of St. Sebastian, Isle of Terceira, one of the Azores or western group, were alarmed at the sight of a squadron, consisting of seven large Spanish war galleons, anchored off the little bay at Salga, the operations for landing a hostile force being actually in progress.

Hastily summoning some companies of militia and collecting behind a neighboring knoll a large herd of semi-wild cattle from the neighboring pastures, the islanders quietly awaited the massing of the Spaniards on the beach.

When this had been accomplished, the Terceirans advanced close up to the foe, as if to the attack, when, suddenly opening out into two long columns and leaving a wide, open space between, the numerous cattle were sent thundering down the center, goaded on by picadors on horseback. So unusual and unexpected a charge threw the Spaniards into complete disorder, and, being at once set upon by the islanders, scarcely a man escaped to the ships, several guns which had been landed falling as spoil to the conquerors.—Exchange.

The candidates who will be present are Messrs Rowland, Miller and Scott also Mr. John Francies and other prominent Bellefonte men. A large parade led by "Our Boys Band" will precede the meeting. Everybody come and bring your friends. The town will be lighted by electricity for the first time in honor of this event. A rousing time is expected.

Thursday evening of last week quite a surprise was sprung on Rev. and Mrs. Clark. Under the auspices of the "Church Aid" a pound party was held in the basement of the church. The members turned out very well considering the rainy weather and the minister and his wife fared quite well despite the fact of the high prices. Everyone enjoyed themselves immensly and after refreshments consisting of cake and coffee departed to their homes leaving their best wishes to their pastor and his family.

Mt. Eagle.

J. F. Deitz last week distributed a car load of coal among his patrons.

Mr. and Mrs. John Braumbarger and son, Thomas, of Altoona, spent Saturday and Sunday at home here with Mrs. B's father J. R. Pheasant. With Mrs. Pheasant they had supper with Mrs. Shaughnessy, at Bellefonte.

Everybody is busy hunting the poor little squiarels, but the latter are not very plentiful along the mountains.

Mr. Confer and Mr. Rogers last week shipped a car of paper wood to the Lock Haven paper mill.

J. F. Deitz several days ago shipped three or four crates of produce to his daughter, Mrs. Aikey, at Bellwood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Corman, who live on a farm above Curtin, spent Sunday with their cousin, Mrs. J. F. Deitz.

Joseph Leathers, of Kennedy, was a dinner guest at the Deitz home on Sunday.

Miss Williams, of Bellefonte, accompanied by a friend, spent several days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Bricker.

Mrs. Frankenfield, who is keeping house for Foster Beatty, spent Sunday at her home in Mill Hall.

Mrs. T. G. Leathers went up to Curtin on Sunday evening to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bryan.

Our friends who have been on the sick list from scarlet fever are improving nicely.

E. H. Heverly was a business visitor in Bellefonte between trains on Saturday evening.

Paddy Barger and Chester Daughenbaugh were visitors here Sunday morning between trains.

Mrs. Roland McCartney and mother-in-law attended the sale at Howard on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Ethel Bitner was a guest Sunday of her sister, Mrs. John Barger.

Howard.

Our ball team again mobolized last Saturday and spent the afternoon contesting with Beech Creek in a double-header. In order that the ceremonies might be more impressive, they secured the famous, "Our Boys Band," of Milesburg, to render inspiring music on this gala occasion. The band did their part well, as is their custom, but our boys did only half as well as they should have done. They lost one game and won the other. The scores were 3-0 against us in the first tiff, and 3-2 in our favor in the second. To Beech Creek belongs the distinction of being the first team to hold us runless for the season. Of course we did the same to them on their last appearance here, and did it a little more decisively, too, the score being 4-0. However, taken as a whole, both games were well played. The first game really should have gone into extra innings. In the first inning of this game, before our machine got to going rightly, Beech Creek scored their three runs, but they were not pure, errors being responsible for all of them. P. Holter was our slab artist and Bullick, who twirled for the Renovo team during the summer, was in the box for our opponents. Both pitchers were in splendid condition, but P. Holter had the better of the argument, and, if the direful happenings of the first inning could have been dispensed with, he would have won. Here is a comparison:—P. Holter struck out twelve men and allowed five singles, while Bullick caused seven to whiff and we gleaned six swats off him, two of them doubles and one a triple. In the second contest, Wetzel and H. Waite were the moundsmen. Not a hit was chalked up against Wetzel until the sixth, while there was only one inning that we did not get one or more safe drives off H. Waite's delivery. The game was called at the end of the seventh on account of darkness. Our total was eight cracks off H. Waite, as against two off Wetzel. In the fifth inning occured one of the most remarkable plays we have ever witnessed. Long, who had distinguished himself during the game by some clever catches, and who has been playing ball since Hector was a pup, was at bat, and he collided with one of H. Waite's curves with such force, that H. Waite was unable to stop or dodge it and it hit him squarely on the forehead and bounded high in the air directly to the catcher, who caught it. Waite was badly stunned and keeled to the ground, but after a few moments he gamely struggled to his feet and finished the game. This coming Saturday our team goes to Beech Creek for a double-header. In the meantime they will continue to keep the people guessing by their frequent mobilizing and demobilizing.

The union prayer meeting last Thursday night was unusually interesting and was very well attended. Six young students from State College, representatives of the Anti-Saloon League of American Colleges, held the audience in rapt attention by their interesting discourses and splendid singing. In the group were Roy M. Decker, a former Howard boy; E. J. Perry, R. E. Keller, A. S. Gillespie, R. A. Keiser and H. E. Walter.

William Perry, of Altoona, spent the weeks-end with his friend, Miss Rebecca Lucas.

Cameron Holter, of Altoona, spent the latter portion of the week at his home with his father and brothers.

Clarence.

Clarence has been favored with a number of delightful little showers the past week, which was indeed a help to the water supply which had become quite low owing to the extreme dry weather.

Miss Mary Considine, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Herrington, at this place, for the past three months, returned to her home in Williamsport on Tuesday.

Bike O'Brien and Edward Blevins drove to Philipsburg on Sunday, in Mr. OBrien's car. There sure must have been some attraction or these boys would not have gone so far away from home.

Well we have found Ed. but that Tub, is yet among the missing. My we do wish these fellows would keep inside the limits, but it seems to be an easy matter for them to get over the ropes.

Grover Johnson, who is employed by the State Centre Electric Co., at Bellefonte, came over on last Thursday to pay us a brief visit. We were all pleased to see him, you bet. Mr. Johnson was formerly employed here by the Snow Shoe Fire Brick Co., but last May accepted the position he now holds.

Berton Foreinger and wife were called to the home of Mrs. Foreinger's parents on Marsh Creek last Saturday on account of the illness of her mother.

Roy Chambers and Geo Kachick, who are attending the Central State Normal School at Lock Haven, spent Sunday at their homes here.

Miss Edna Eaton, of Lock Haven, visited at the home of her brother and Mrs. Galen Eaton on Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Womer has gone to join her husband at Emlenton, Pa., where he is employed.

Samuel Womer, Martha Carver and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Marks spent Sunday afternoon taking in the sights at Stob Hill, where the construction companies are engaged at building new railroad for the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. It is quite interesting to view the operations of the large steam shovels and the many men at their different kinds of work.

Curtin.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stover and son Donald, of Bellefonte, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bathurst.

Joseph Carter, of Altoona, visited at the homes of R. A. Gingher and Orlando Bryan Saturday and Sunday.

Quite a number of our folks attended the festival at Lyonstown on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Charles Stanley was a Bellefonte shopper on Friday.

Our sick this week include Mrs. James Barger, Sr., Mrs. Amelia Gingher and Elmer Aikey. We hope for their speedy recovery.

Mrs. John Rossman and daughter Dorothy, of Hecla Park, were called to Curtin on account of the serious illness of her brother, Elmer Aikey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Leathers, of near Curtin, visited friends in Grove City on Sunday.

Clair Prince visited his sister, Mrs. Roy Hazzard, at Unionville, the latter part of last week.

Mrs. William Brooks and little daughter arrived home from the Bellefonte hospital last Thursday evening.

A certain lady of our town sent an envelope and the postage to the post office, but failed to put in the letter. Moral—be sure to have your letters right before sending them to the post office.

Any one wanting one of the newly invented lanterns, just call on Elgie or Helen.

Miss Pearl Bryan, who is making her home at Curtin, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bryan, in Milesburg, on Sunday.

Rev. Piper will hold an all-day service in the M. E. Church Sunday Oct. 25th. and will also conduct a series of meetings.

Those who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Dukeman on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Latimer Billet and children, of Coleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stanley of Milesburg, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bathurst, on Sunday.

Mrs. T. G. Leathers of Mt. Eagle, visited friends in Curtin on Sunday evening.

Blanchard.

Mr. Hall, of Philadelphia, who recently returned from his visit to Germany, spent a few days with Mrs. Carrie Fore while enroute to his home.

Mrs. James Bechdel has taken advantage of the 15-day excursion to Niagara Falls and Buffalo and will visit with friends on her return trip.

The many old home friends of Elliott Gardner were shocked to learn of his sad death in the mines at Winburn. His body was brought to his home at Beech Creek on Saturday.

A. R. Mann took a load of fellows to Howard in his auto to see the baseball game last Saturday.

Miss Ida Turner, of Julian, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. John DeHaas, over Sunday.

Mrs. William French, of Michigan, took dinner with Mrs. Sarah Rothrock on Monday, returning to her home on Tuesday.

Miss Sadie Snyder left this week for an extended visit with relatives at State College.

Sheridan Kunes, of Corning, New York, is visiting with his mother, Mrs. William Kunes, for a short time.

Vote the straight Republican ticket.

A vote for the Republican ticket is a vote for business prosperity.

When business is demoralized, a pretty good "safety first" plan is to vote the straight Republican ticket.

Mr. McCormick says the issue is Penrose. A good many men who are out of employment seem to think the issue is the need of re-electing Penrose.

In 802 industrial plants in Pennsylvania 125,000 fewer men are employed today than was the case one year ago. Blame it on the European war. Sure enough.

"If you elect me Governor, I'll be your Governor. I am no man's man. There are no strings to my candidacy," says Dr. Brumbaugh. And he means what he says.

The Democratic and Washington party bosses are engaged in an unseemly scramble for the jobs. They apparently have overlooked the fact that these days the people give out the jobs.

The American Plate Glass Co. this week closes down its plants all over the United States. Fifteen thousand men are thereby forced out of employment. Warehouses are stocked full, but no orders are on hand. More Democratic free trade prosperity!

One of the iron mills at Sharon is scheduled to shut down on Saturday, October 24th, due to a scarcity of orders. Mr. Palmer, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, wrote the metal plank in the Wilson-Underwood free trade law. Query: Will the men in the Sharon mills vote for Palmer?

The Sheriff's Election Proclamation appears on another page of this newspaper. By examining the form of the ballot any voter may thoroughly familiarize himself with the problem of how to mark his ticket and be sure it will not be thrown out as defective. It is as important to know how properly to mark your ballot as it is to go to the polls.

If the mail carrier some day next week hands you a postal card, postmarked Oyster Bay and signed by T. R., don't get all fussed up with the notion that Teddy thought so much about you that he sat down and wrote you a personal note. In Philadelphia this week the Washington Party bosses have had printed hundreds of thousands of these cards to be shipped over to Oyster Bay and mailed from that point to make it appear as the personal work of T. R. Teddy will not so much as pay the bill for the printing.

Mrs. Bretherland, of Hollidaysburg, is the guest of her sisters, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Kinney, of Milesburg.

At the Presbyterian Church Dr. Hawes gave to the congregation a few figures setting forth the work of the congregation in the three years he has been with them. He came as pastor October 13th, 1911. He found a membership of 343 at that time. Since then 105 have been added on confession, of whom 22 were baptized, and 39 on certificate. The losses have been by death 22, by removal with certificates 17, by being placed on "side roll" 33. The present net membership is 413. The number of sermons and addresses totals 409, of which 311 were delivered to the congregation, 98 to other congregations. He has made a talk each week to the Academy students, and at times conducted weekly classes in the Y. M. C. A. No record has been kept of these addresses. Funerals conducted were 47. He assisted at 9 others; total funerals 56. Weddings 16. The contributions of the congregations during these three years totals, for missions, etc, $12,698; for local work, etc, $24,536. Total $37,234.

BISHOP BERRY SAYS BRUMBAUGH IS O. K. ON LOCAL OPTION

Writes In Methodist Times That Republican Candidate Has Been Emphatic In Making Attitude Known.

Bishop Joseph F. Berry, of the Methodist Episcopal church, in an article in the current issue of the Methodist Times, writes that Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, the Republican candidate for governor, has committed himself to the local option cause in the most emphatic terms.

Bishop Berry's statement is based upon the platform pledge and campaign promises of Dr. Brumbaugh. In a speech at Franklin last week, Dr. Brumbaugh said: "I stand for local option and shall do all in my power to see that such legislation is passed if elected to the office of governor."

In his article in the Methodist Times Bishop Berry says:

"I hope the chief issue in the pending elections in the state of Pennsylvania may be kept clearly in view. The vital question is not what candidate shall be elected United States senator or governor. The thing which should chiefly concern every Christian voter is 'what kind of a man will represent me in the state senate and assembly?' The question of local option and possibly of state-wide prohibition will be brought forward in the legislature, and the importance of electing reliable temperance men to that body must be apparent.

"The candidates for governor on both the Republican and Democratic-Washington tickets have committed themselves in the most emphatic terms to advanced temperance legislation, so that whichever is elected we will have a governor who has publicly pledged himself to sign any bill which the temperance forces put through. The big task before us is to elect a legislature which will surely pass the necessary bills.

"Let not the politicians becloud the issue. It is the next legislature which the decent citizens of Pennsylvania must capture if they hope to do any business at Harrisburg in the near future."

DIDN'T TAKE THE HOLE.

But That Was Probably Because the Court Said They Shouldn't.

An amusing instance of legal sharp practice is set forth in the annals of Westerly, R. I. It occurred a hundred years ago, when, it seems, lawyers were quite as adroit at quibbling as certain of their successors are today.

A farmer of broken fortunes hired for cultivation a piece of land, agreeing to pay for the use thereof with a certain proportion of the crop. He planted potatoes and had an unusual degree of success. Being without a storeroom, he obtained the consent of a neighboring landholder and deposited his share of the potatoes in what farmers call a potato hole—that is, an excavation in the earth in which the potatoes are placed and covered with earth and straw in the form of a pyramid.

Shortly afterward he had occasion to go to Connecticut, and one of his creditors seized the opportunity to attach the potato hole.

Upon this another creditor bestirred himself and consulted a lawyer as to what could be done to secure his claim. The attorney was equal to the occasion. He secured the issuing of a second writ, by which an attachment was levied upon the potatoes in the potato hole, the documents specifically setting forth that the potato hole should be left upon the land where it was found.

The warrant was promptly served, and when the first creditor appeared upon the scene he found the potato hole, but not the potatoes.—Case and Comment.

Strong Hack Saw Blades.

The layman watching a tiny hack saw blade working its way through a tough piece of steel is filled with wonder, for it seems like putting a tiny boy to do the task of a giant. The latest idea is that of making a saw which has a soft, flexible back with hard tempered teeth. At a test of the strength of this blade it was found that it would support two men, representing a total weight of 283 pounds, without breaking.

Histrionic Requirements.

"There is no reason for mentioning your name," said the eminent player. "You are a press agent; not an actor."

"Believe me," replied Mr. Boostington, "a press agent has to be some actor to convince a star that he believes all the things he hammers out on the typewriter."—Washington Star.

Between Friends.

Kittye—Even if I do use a little peroxide my hair isn't false like yours. Kathryn—Even if my puffs are false the color is more constant than yours.—Boston Globe.

Relationship.

"Wasn't that insistent visitor you had a first cousin or something?"

"Yes, until pa kicked him out, and then he was a cousin once removed.—Baltimore American.

Course of Wisdom.

Crawford—What do you do when a woman asks your advice? Crabshaw—Find out first what she has made up her mind to do.—Judge.

Posture.

"As the twig is bent, the tree's inclined."

Few people appreciate the value of correct posture, says State Health Commissioner Dixon. Not alone does it have a decided effect upon our bodily health but an equal if not a greater bearing upon our mental attitude. When a man is down and out we plead with him to "brace up." It is almost impossible to associate incompetency and weakness with a firm upright carriage. Resolution seems to be the natural accompaniment of an erect, well poised physique. Not alone for its effect upon ourselves but for the impression which it makes upon our fellows we should endeavor to cultivate an upright bearing.

If you slouch at your work you really incapacitate yourself. A proper position sitting as well as standing or walking is required to insure the maximum use of body and brain. A depressed head and shoulders means a contraction of the chest and a corresponding inability to expand the lungs to their full extent. Any lessening of our maximum breathing capacity is harmful.

This position if persisted in may also interfere with the heart action. It is particularly important for growing children, especially for those of school age, to acquire a proper posture.

Considerable attention has been given to the seating of pupils but until every backless bench has been removed from our school rooms and every child is given a properly designed seat which will permit the feet to rest on the floor, and a desk of proper height, we will not have begun to do the necessary work in this direction.

The acquirement of a graceful upright carriage by both boys and girls is an acquisition whose value both in the social and business world can scarcely be overestimated. The man or woman who has fallen into careless habits in this respect will find their efforts to correct them well repaid.

No violent gymnastics are necessary. A few simple exercises and a little determination can accomplish much toward making proper posture a permanent good habit which will benefit us physically and mentally.

Joseph M. Way Dead.

Joseph Miles Way died last Thursday morning at his late home at Philipsburg after an illness of about ten days. He had been a resident of Philipsburg for forty-six years and was a citizen who was held in high esteem. He was born in Half Moon township, August 26, 1829, and was the son of Jacob Way, who served as a squire from 1820 to 1850. Fifty-seven years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Martha Lytle, still living but very much afflicted, to whom nine children were born, six surviving, viz: Grant, of Clearfield; William, of Patton; Edward, of Chicago, Ill.; Eleanor and May at home and Myrtle, wife of E. T. Eboch, of Mt. Etna. He was the last surviving member of a family of nine brothers and sisters.

David Buck Dead.

David Buck, a well known resident of Warriorsmark Valley, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Beck, at Warriorsmark, at 2:30 o'clock last Sunday morning of a complication of diseases with which he had suffered for the past six weeks. Deceased was born in Huntingdon county, October 10, 1833, and was a member of the United Brethren church at Centre Line. He is survived by his wife and seven children, Mrs. Levi Acker, of Drab; Mrs. H. A. Becker, of Central America; Mrs. Martin Grazier and Mrs. Lloyd Beck, both of Warriorsmark; Mrs. E. L. Gray and Mrs. F. M. Harnden, both of Altoona, and Miles Buck, of Arcadia, Neb.

Charles A. Rishel Dead.

Charles Allen Rishel died on Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock at his late residence at Coburn as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. Deceased was aged 32 years, 4 months and 5 days. He was born in Gregg township and was a son of Jeremiah Rishel. Eleven years ago he was married to Miss Maude May Bower, who survives with these children: Nevin R., Mildred Lucella, Beatrice Rosella and Emma Jane Lorain. Surviving also is one sister, Mrs. W. H. Musser, of Coburn. Funeral services will be held from the Paradise church on Friday morning at 9 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Mr. Price and Rev. Mr. Brown.

Mrs. Isabel Markel Dead.

Mrs. Isabel Markel, a resident of Blue Ball, died on Saturday, October 10th, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Frank Goss, at Buffalo, N. Y., where she had been visiting since the first of the year. She was the widow of the late Frank Markel and was a native of Bald Eagle valley. Her maiden name was Isabel Ammerman. At the time of her death she was aged about 63 years. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Frank Goss, of Buffalo, N. Y.; one brother, Alfred Ammerman, of Blue Ball, and a half brother, Gar Ammerman, of Tyrone.

Home from Mt. Clemens.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Al. Williams, of Blanchard, have returned home after a visit to the baths at Mt. Clemens, Michigan. Both report a gratifying improvement in health as a result of the treatment.

Pine Grove Mills.

Mrs. Ellis Lytle was an over Sunday visitor with friends at Stormstown, the home of her childhood.

Rev. Dr. Spangler is visitng his son Roy at the parsonage and they are gunning for the friskies. The Doctor gave a very interesting lecture on his travels in Palestine Sunday evening in the Lutheran church that was enjoyed by an audience that filled the place to standing room capacity.

Rev. S. C. Stover is attending the classis in session at Reading this week. N. C. Dreibelbis accompanied him as lay member of the charge.

Merchant E. M. Watt came in the first day's hunt with the limit of the friskey tribe. Wilbur Decker and two cronies in three days bagged 33 gray squirrels and 8 grouse.

Rev. Mr. Barber, of Curwensville, will fill the pulpit in the Presbyterian church this coming Sunday at 2.30 P. M., and not 7.30 P. M., as originally announced.

George Porter and family are snugly located in part of Mrs. Gertie Keichline's home on East Main Street.

The Rogers family, who for the last year resided in the Ward home on Chestnut Street, moved to Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

Miss Helen Burkett left last week for Cleveland, where she will attend school this winter and reside with her uncle Frank Burkett.

Mrs. Harry Collins, of Pitcairn, is visiting the Collins home on West Main Street. Harry is coming later for a few days hunt.

Harry Sunday is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a chubby little boy and Grandpa Sunday is correspondingly happy and smoking three for a quarter.

Robert Burkett went to Tyrone Monday, where he has accepted a clerkship in the postoffice.

Miss Daisy Weaver, of Altoona, is visiting with friends in and nearby town, for the first time since she was a little tot.

At private sale last week, Clayton Struble bought the Julia Musser lots east of town at the $500 price.

J. W. Kepler loaded a car of wheat and oats on Tuesday for Gamble & Gheen, at Bellefonte.

W. S. Ward and wife and C. B. Hess and wife attended the Mrs. Boop funeral at Harrisburg on Wednesday.

George Dunlap is having his residence remodeled and also giving it a new coat of paint.

Roy Wasson, the efficient mail carrier, last Saturday morning had a bad mix-up with his team. One horse stumbled and fell and the other fell on top of the first, causing some ugly bruises and scratches. Naturally the mail bag was a trifle late that day.

Among the sick this week are Mrs. W. K. Corl, J. W. Fry and Mrs. Minnie Goss. The latter figured in a runaway Saturday, when her horse frightened while at State College and started off at a mad pace. She was thrown out and suffered injuries to her neck and shoulder. Fortunately no bones were broken. The buggy and harness were wrecked. The horse was caught nearby the ladies cottage. Mrs. Goss probably owes her life to the fact that she was thrown into a ditch filled with water. N. E. Hess conveyed her home in his machine. She is suffering considerably from nervous shock, but is recovering nicely.

Ticks of the wire on Monday brought the sad news of the death of Laura, wife of John E. Boop, who was found dead in bed at her home at Harrisburg. She retired at her usual time on Sunday night and apparently was in her customary health. She was a daughter of the late Simon Ward and was born at Baileyville about 60 years ago. Probably twenty years ago the family removed to Harrisburg. Besides her husband she is survived by three sons and two daughters, also ay three brothers and one sister. She was a splendid woman and one who made many warm friends. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church. Burial was made at Harrisburg on Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

Samuel A. Hinds Dead.

Samuel A. Hinds, a son of Mrs. Sarah Hinds, of Lock Haven, died at his late home at Mecla Park last Sunday morning from hardening of the arteries. He had been in poor health for a number of months. He is survived by a widow, four sons and four daughters, also two brothers and five sisters. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 10 o'clock, interment being made at Zion.

Australian Wells.

Until the settlers in the rolling downs in western Queensland found out that they could get water by means of artesian wells they were seriously thinking of giving up their farms and ranches on account of many successive years of drought. Now there are several hundred such wells in Queensland, from which the settlers get an unfailing supply of water. The deepest well, which is at Bimerah, has a depth of 5,045 feet. The shallowest well, at Manfred Downs, has a depth of ten feet. The well at Charleville is 1,371 feet deep and produces 3,000,000 gallons a day, the largest flow in the state. The daily flow from all the artesian wells of Queensland is estimated at over half a billion gallons.

Port Matilda.

Merrill Williams, of Tyrone, spent Sunday at his parental home.

Miss Stella Barry shopped in Altoona last Saturday.

John Miles, of Pittsburg, spent a few days last week at the home of his father, S. S. Miles.

Mrs. A. J. Johnson visited in Tyrone recently.

Mrs. James Cowher, of Beaverdale, was a Sunday visitor with relatives and friends in this, her girlhood town, the first time she has been here in eleven years.

Mrs. H. H. Laird, spent the week-end with her daughter, Minnie, at Snow Shoe, where the latter is teaching.

H. A. McKinney, of Altoona, Sundayed at his mother's, Mrs. Susan McKinney.

Ogle Jones, wife and family, of Johnstown, visited for a few days at A. J. Johnson's.

Mrs. George Givler and children, of Tyrone, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Cowher.

Miss Mame Laird shopped in Tyrone Saturday.

Mrs. Morris, of Bellefonte, was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. A. Williams, recently.

Miss Lizzie Pringle, of Altoona, spent Sunday at home.

The opening of the hunting season has brought many former "Bald Eaglers" home to hunt. Among them are John Harpster, of Pittsburgh, and Jackson Harpster, of Philipsburg. Squirrels and pheasants seem very plentiful in this section.

Amos Nearhoof Dead.

On Saturday, October 17, at 4 15 p. m., death called Amos Nearhoof, of Bald Eagle, to his reward. Deceased was the son of Henry K. and Elizabeth Nearhoof, (deceased), and was born January 27, 1857. He resided in Bald Eagle valley and followed the occupation of farming. He was a loving husband and a kind father. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was highly esteemed by all with whom he came in contact in his daily life. He is survived by his wife, Elmira J., and the following children: Austin A., Charles F., Ernest R., Mrs. H. E. Murphy, of Tyrone; Mildred and Joseph, at home. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Andrew and Laura B., of West Brownsville; Isaiah, of Vail; James C., of Bellwood; Joshua B., of Altoona and Mrs. G. W. Reid, of Hollidaysburg. Funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Bald Eagle, Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Mrs. Harriet Letterman Dead.

Mrs. Harriet Letterman, an aged and highly esteemed resident of Milesburg, died at her late home at that place on Friday morning, October 16th, at 5.30 o'clock. Her death was caused by apoplexy. She was born January 15th, 1838, a daughter of Jonas and Eliza Crozer. At the time of death she was aged 76 years, 9 months and 1 day. These children survive to mourn the passing away of a kindly, devoted mother: Mrs. Lucian Rager, George Letterman and Hayes Letterman, all of Milesburg. Funeral services were held on Monday, October 19th, at one o'clock from the late home, Rev. S. S. Clark officiating. Interment was made in the Treziyulny cemetery.

In Memoriam.

WHEREAS, it hath pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst His Own Right Hand, our blessed sister and co-worker in His temporal vineyard, Mary Jane Coder; and,

WHEREAS, she went about doing good and was held in great love and esteem by all who knew her, it is just and fitting that we thus publicly acknowledge our indebtedness to her as an example of a Christian woman; therefore, be it,

RESOLVED, That the Ladies Aid Society and Church of Hunter's Run, in whose interests she faithfully labored for a number of years, do greatly mourn the loss of this, a Mother in Israel, whose gentle smile, genial presence and sincere sympathy cheered the hearts and to more righteous living all who came under her influence;

RESOLVED, That we mourn for her as one not dead but gone hence, and rejoice that she has triumphantly entered through the gates into the City Celestial;

RESOLVED, That we cherish her memory in our hearts to profit by her example in our lives, and extend our very deepest sympathy to the bereaved husband and children, who are left to mourn for her;

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be entered on the minutes of our Aid Society, published in the county newspapers, and a copy presented to the family.

By order of the committee,

Mrs. C. B. Schenck,
Mrs. Irvin M. Schenck,
Mrs. H. S. Schenck.

Rally Meeting.

The Bellefonte W. C. T. U. will hold a rally meeting this (Thursday) evening in the Petrikin Hall at 7.30 o'clock. Bellefonte is always ready to come to the front in the cause of suffering humanity. Last spring the flood sufferers appealed to us, and the most generous donations were sent in large barrels and boxes to comfort and cheer more than one needy place. This year the cry comes, not from our own land, let us thank God, but from thousands of orphaned children and helpless women whose homes have been utterly destroyed, whose fathers and brothers in many cases have been tortured or murdered in the awful conflict of the civilized nations of Europe. The need is so stupendous, it appeals to one, but that will in no sense relieve us of our responsibility to help lessen the sufferings of these innocent victims. We must help, they are our brethren, and "inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

The meeting called for this evening will take some definite action to formulate plans for immediate work. We want every woman who reads this or hears of the meeting to come.

Woman's Club Notes.

The Woman's Club will hold its regular meeting on Monday, October 26th, at half past seven in the High School building. Mrs. John S. Walker will give a talk on "The League of Good Citizenship"

At the last meeting of the club Mrs. John I. Olewine gave a report on the Domestic Science kitchen which has been established in the High School. Through the efforts of Mrs. Olewine, Mrs. John P. Lyon, and others, a course of cooking is now given to the girls of the High School and a well equipped kitchen is ready for their use.

A large part of the equipment has been donated by Mrs. Olewine and others, but there is yet a sum of $160 to be raised to pay for the tables, sink and cupboard.

All contributions toward the cause can be sent to Mrs. John I. Olewine, Mrs. John P. Lyon, or Mr. Jonas E. Wagner.

CHURCHES SHOULD AID BRUMBAUGH

E. N. Haag Characterizes Nominee as Christian Gentleman.

IS OWN BEST PLATFORM

Declares Endorsement of Opponent Does Not Reflect True Sentiment.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19. — Declaring that Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh is his own best platform, Edward Newton Haag, the noted lawyer and prominent Methodist laymen of this city, in an interview calls upon all churchmen to aid in electing Dr. Brumbaugh as the next governor of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Haag calls to account those who taken into the churches statements derogatory to the candidacy of Dr. Brumbaugh. "It is high time that there should be an awakening throughout the state as to the true situation," Mr. Haag added.

"Dr. Thomas W. McKenty was absolutely right when in addressing the Methodist Preachers' association, he said it was 'improper to convert a preachers' meeting into a political meeting, no matter what the virtues of the issues involved,'" said Mr. Haag. "The indorsement of Vance C. McCormick for governor in preference to Martin G. Brumbaugh is calculated to make countless thousands of even ordinary Methodist laymen throughout Pennsylvania not only smile, but laugh outright. Dr. McKenty was absolutely right when he said it does not represent the sentiment of the Methodist people, and as such its adoption by the ministers isn't either wise, consistent or even good politics.

"It is almost a crime committed in the name of religion to take such a step at this time, for it conveys the impression to the ordinary layman that mere politics are permitted to actuate these ministers to a point where, intentionally or foolishly, they permit themselves to be used as blind tools to strike at one who is the equal of any of them, no matter from what standpoint considered. Dr. Brumbaugh has never failed to stand up boldly to defend the Christian faith, and his strong and Lincoln-like presence and eloquent voice have countless times been found and heard in Methodist churches throughout the state. He has never failed to sacrifice self and respond when it was possible for him to do so.

"The man who could defeat Dr. Brumbaugh for governor this fall, in my humble opinion, hasn't been born yet. The masses know him and he need not fear the classes, who do themselves the greatest injustice by opposing him, for it is a rare privilege to support such an upright, noble man for this high office. He is his own best platform. If you can't trust Dr. Brumbaugh to do his Christian and civic duty, surely you can't trust any one—not even the preachers who struck at him when he had his back turned.

"Action like this is well calculated to vex one and make him ask whether it is always either wise or proper to follow such blind or foolish attempted leadership as was shown in the adoption, after brief consideration and discussion, of the resolution referred to.

Worse Than Folly.

"If it is true, as is alleged on good authority, that a certain man (if he is entitled to the designation of man) is 'behind the gun' in shooting into the Christian churches of the state derogatory statements to the candidacy of Dr. Brumbaugh for governor, which worse than folly is being swallowed and furthered by some of the churches without even so much as giving it the slightest investigation, then it does seem that it is high time that there should be an awakening throughout the entire state as to the true situation. Dr. Brumbaugh is too good a man, with too clean a record from the time he began as a boy to work on the farm, later in the saw mill and his father's store, right down to the present minute, to be maligned in that way, especially so when it is being done through Christian churches that ought to stand with him now shoulder to shoulder as he had stood with them from his boyhood. Now is the time when they can show that they have backbone and are not easily led to do a grave injustice to one of the best and noblest men in the state, either on account of their ignorance, thoughtlessness or folly.

"Furthermore, it will not do to simply sit idly by and let this attempted injustice be perpetrated, because that would be to prove unworthy of the name of Christian or a good and worthy citizen. It is the solemn duty of the ministers and laymen alike to get busy and stand up for a man who has shown himself fully worthy of it and who is being shamefully abused and misrepresented for selfish ends by those who are trying to use the Christian church and ministers as cat's paws.

"No greater stain could come on the churches of Pennsylvania than for Dr. Brumbaugh to suffer a serious loss in votes by reason of this misrepresentation, which is an innuendo, because no one has dared to openly accuse him of anything unworthy of the highest Christian citizenship.

"When one reviews the clean record of Dr. Brumbaugh, he cannot help but see that every citizen in Pennsylvania who honors worth and manhood, should promptly rise up and join in doing justice to him at this time when so grave an injustice is threatened by men who evidently stand ready to assassinate character in order to accomplish their selfish ends and who trust on weak-kneed Christians and their leaders in the pulpit to aid them in their nefarious and damnable aims. If you are a good citizen, this is the time to show it by voting for Dr. Brumbaugh and seeing to it that all your friends also do so. In no better way can the churches of the state show that they are in sympathy with the masses and worthy of their support and co-operation than by seeing to it that plain justice is done to Dr. Brumbaugh, even though it may be necessary to preach it from the pulpit. Vote for Dr. Brumbaugh, the capable, straightforward Christian gentleman."

BRUMBAUGH PAYS COST OF HIS FIGHT

Candidate and Friends Bearing Campaign Expenses.

NOT STATE COMMITTEE

Independence of Republican Nominee For Governor Clearly Demonstrated.

The absolute independence of Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh and just how far he is going to keep out of entangling alliances is demonstrated by the fact that he has declined to allow the Republican state committee to pay his personal campaign expenses. The facts are clearly set forth in the following manner in the Philadelphia Ledger:

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican nominee for governor, has informed the Republican state committee that he will accept no money from the Republican state committee's campaign fund. The expenses of his personal campaign, he said today, have been paid and are being paid by the Brumbaugh citizens' committee, by himself and by personal friends.

"My hands are clean," said Dr. Brumbaugh. "When the campaign is over no man can question the source of the funds used in placing my candidacy before the people of Pennsylvania. I have asked the state committee to furnish no funds for my personal campaign, and they have granted my request. Personal friends provided the funds for my campaign before the Brumbaugh citizens' committee was formed, and that committe is now paying the expenses of my campaign."

Personal friends of the candidate today said that before Dr. Brumbaugh announced his candidacy last spring, they offered to pay the expense of the "schoolmaster's" campaign themselves. He accepted their offer, and it was his own money and that furnished by these personal friends, among whom was Louis J. Kolb, the treasurer of the Brumbaugh citizens' committee, that paid the expenses of the Brumbaugh headquarters and the cost of printing and distributing Dr. Brumbaugh's platform and all the other Brumbaugh campaign literature that was issued during the primary campaign.

The movement for a citizens' committee to assist Dr. Brumbaugh in his campaign spread rapidly, and when the Brumbaugh citizens' committee was announced a month ago leading citizens of all parties and men prominent in every section of Pennsylvania were enrolled as members.

This committee assumed charge of raising and expending the funds for Dr. Brumbaugh's personal campaign. Contributions to Dr. Brumbaugh's campaign fund were made by the most prominent members of the committee, all of whom are personal friends of the candidate. Louis J. Kolb as treasurer of the committee, was placed in charge of the fund.

"The Republican state committee," said Mr. Kolb today, "have given no financial assistance to Dr. Brumbaugh in his personal campaign." The activity of the state organization, which is supposed to direct the campaign of all the Republican candidates, said Mr. Kolb, has been confined to distributing some Brumbaugh pictures through the various county committees, and to printing and distributing general state ticket literature and Dr. Brumbaugh's picture on a placard with the pictures of the other Republican candidates.

"Dr. Brumbaugh's traveling expenses, the expense of the Brumbaugh headquarters, the cost of printing and distributing the Brumbaugh literature and the other publicity work are being paid for by the Brumbaugh citizens' committee, at whose disposal personal friends of Dr. Brumbaugh have placed contributions," said Mr. Kolb.

"The Republican state committee is not paying one cent of Dr. Brumbaugh's personal campaign expenses. The contributions to his campaign fund have come from his personal friends, so that when elected he will not be entangled in any way. The money is spent only for his traveling expenses, for printing and distributing campaign literature and for publicity work, and only in a strictly legitimate way."

The Republican candidate for governor has also shown his independence of the Republican state committee in his campaign tours. He kicked over the traces early in the campaign, and is the first Republican candidate for many years to direct his own itinerary.

When the views of the officers of the state committee have coincided with those of Dr. Brumbaugh the gubernatorial candidate has followed the itinerary drawn up by them. When he thought that his presence was more badly needed in another part of the state he has stumped through the counties he has selected.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section one, article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met. That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section one of article eight, which reads as follows:

"Section 1. Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections, subject, however, to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact:

"First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

"Second. He shall have resided in the State one year (or, having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

"Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

"Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election," be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

Section 1. Every citizen, male or female, of twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections, subject, however, to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact:

First. He or she shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second. He or she shall have resided in the State one year (or, having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the State, he or she shall have removed therefrom, and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. He or she shall have resided in the election district where he or she shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he or she shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

Fifth. Wherever the words "he," "his," "him," and "himself" occur in any section of article VIII of this Constitution the same shall be construed as if written, respectively, "he or she," "his or her," "him or her," and "himself or herself."

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenues in excess of the interest on said debt or debts, and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking-fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained," so that it shall read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation. The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes,—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities; for the construction and improvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness, for any one or more of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual installments. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work.

Number Three.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section twenty-one of article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amend section twenty-one, article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"No act of the General Assembly shall limit the amount to be recovered for injuries resulting in death, or for injuries to persons or property, and in case of death from such injuries, the right of action shall survive, and the General Assembly shall prescribe for whose benefit such actions shall be prosecuted. No act shall prescribe any limitations of time within which suits may be brought against corporations for injuries to persons or property, or for other causes different from those fixed by general laws regulating actions against natural persons, and such acts now existing are avoided," so that it shall read as follows:

The General Assembly may enact laws requiring the payment by employers, or employers and employees jointly, of reasonable compensation for injuries to employees arising in the course of their employment, and for occupational diseases of employees, whether or not such injuries or diseases result in death, and regardless of fault of employer or employee, and fixing the basis of ascertainment of such compensation and the maximum and minimum limits thereof, and providing special or general remedies for the collection thereof; but in no other cases shall the General Assembly limit the amount to be recovered for injuries resulting in death, or for injuries to persons or property, and in case of death from such injuries, the right of action shall survive, and the General Assembly shall prescribe for whose benefit such actions shall be prosecuted. No act shall prescribe any limitations of time within which suits may be brought against corporations for injuries to persons or property, or for other causes, different from those fixed by general laws regulating actions against natural persons, and such acts now existing are avoided.

Number Four.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania abolishing the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That article four of the Constitution of Pennsylvania shall be amended by adding thereto section twenty-three, which shall read as follows:—

The office of Secretary of Internal Affairs be, and the same is hereby, abolished; and the powers and duties now vested in, or appertaining or belonging to, that branch of the executive department, office, or officer, shall be transferred to such other departments, offices, or officers of the State, now or hereafter created, as may be directed by law.

Number Five.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of this Commonwealth in accordance with provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article thereof:—

AMENDMENT.

Laws may be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State, or by the counties thereof, and for settling and determining adverse or other claims to and interests in lands the titles to which are so registered, transferred, insured, and guaranteed; and for the creation and collection of indemnity funds; and for carrying the system and powers hereby provided for into effect by such existing courts as may be designated by the Legislature, and by the establishment of such new courts as may be deemed necessary. In matters arising in and under the operation of such system, judicial powers, with right of appeal, may be conferred by the Legislature upon county recorders and upon other officers by it designated. Such laws may provide for continuing the registering, transferring, insuring, and guaranteeing such titles after the first or original registration has been perfected by the court, and provision may be made for raising the necessary funds for expenses and salaries of officers, which shall be paid out of the treasury of the several counties.

Number Six.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof.

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking-fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained," so as to read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation; except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That such indebtedness incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia shall not at any time, in the aggregate, exceed the sum of twenty-five million dollars for the purpose of improving and developing the port of the said city and county, by the condemnation, purchase, or reclamation or lease of land on the banks of the Delaware and Schuylkill rivers, and land adjacent thereto; the building of bulkheads, and the purchase or construction or lease of wharves, docks, sheds, and warehouses, and other buildings and facilities, necessary for the establishment and maintenance of railroad and shipping terminals along the said rivers; and the dredging of the said rivers and docks: Provided, That the said city and county shall, at or before the time of so doing, provide for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest thereon, and also the principal thereof within fifty years from the incurring thereof.

Fair Exchange.

It was Mrs. Malloon's birthday, and she felt a trifle disappointed that there was no gift beside her plate. It was the first time in twenty years that her husband had forgotten the occasion. Mr. Malloon smiled at her frankly.

"My dear," he said, "I have been so busy lately that I have not had time to buy you a birthday gift, but I'll give you the cow."

She thanked him graciously. "Daisy is a beautiful cow," she said.

Two months later Mr. Malloon's birthday came round. When he appeared at breakfast his wife greeted him with a radiant smile. "My dear," she said, "I have been so busy lately sewing for the children that I haven't had time to make you a birthday gift, but I'll give you the cow."—Chicago News.

Three Ages.

The Berlin botanical gardens, says Lustige Blatter, are wonderfully beautiful, but to small children they are a forbidden paradise. Boys and girls under ten are not permitted to enter.

Herr and Frau Muller found this out to their disappointment when they planned to take their little Paul on a Sunday trip to view the beautiful gardens. Nevertheless they gave their young hopeful a few instructions and started out. At the gate the porter stopped the young Muller. "How old are you?" he inquired. Paul answered, "Six for the electrics; really eight; for the botanical gardens, ten."

The Stoning of Hamilton.

Alexander Hamilton was stoned by a New York audience in the summer of 1795. While at a public meeting he was speaking in favor of the Jay treaty, which had just been negotiated by John Jay between the United States and England. Dr. Francis in his "Old New York" says that among those who did the stoning was the famous Edward Livingston, together with many other "leading citizens."

Where Procedure Is Slow.

"What's your excuse for speeding?" asked the judge.

"Oh, we live in rapid times, your honor," answered the motorist flippantly. "Everything has to speed up a bit these days."

"Not at all," said the judge. "And you will observe the contrary if you will sit down and spend the day in this courtroom. Ten dollars."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MIND AND BODY.

Human Emotions Have a Potent Effect Upon the Physical Being.

A man is handed a telegram. He is eating and enjoying his dinner. He reads the contents of the message. Almost immediately afterward his body is a-tremble, his face either reddens or grows "ashy white," his appetite is gone; such is the effect of the mind upon the stomach that it literally refuses the food; if forced upon it it may reject it entirely.

A message is delivered to a lady. She is in a genial, happy mood. Her face whitens, she trembles and her body falls to the ground in a faint, temporarily helpless, apparently lifeless. Such are the intimate relations between the mind and the body.

Great stress or anxiety or fear may in two weeks' or even in two days' time so work its ravages that the person looks ten years or even twenty years older. A person has been long given to worry or perhaps to worry in extreme form, though not so long; a well defined case of indigestion and general stomach trouble, with a generally lowered and sluggish vitality has become pronounced and fixed.

Any type of thought that prevails in our mental lives will in time produce its correspondence in our physical lives. As we understand better these laws of correspondences we will be more careful as to the types of thoughts and emotions we consciously or unwittingly entertain and live with. The great bulk of all diseases are generated in the body through certain states and conditions of mind.—Ralph Waldo Trine in Woman's Home Companion.

PANGGANGS OF MALAY.

Ruled by an Old Witch, They Are the Queerest People Known.

Ruled by a great enchantress and having no form of money, the Panggangs, a tribe in a mountainous jungle in the northern part of the Malay peninsula, is one of the queerest known to white men. The tribesmen are of a negroid type, whose social organization is that of a simple form of commonwealth and who are nomadic, wandering about from place to place in their dense jungles and forests.

Among them dwells a woman whose strange characteristics are strongly reminiscent of Haggard's famous "She." The woman is supposed to be a great enchantress. She is held in dread by the Panggangs. She lives alone in a bamboo hut, shaded by the leaves of the sacred ubang tree. Food is brought her daily by the oldest man or woman of the tribe.

The Panggangs are said to be a peaceable and honest people, and do not, among themselves, either fight or steal. They literally have no use for money for trading purposes, but if by chance they get money they bury it, so that they may use it in trading after death. After getting a supply of food, they do no work whatever until the supply is ended. They eat any wild creature.

These people do not seem to have any religion, but they have a queer belief in the transmigration of souls. In their country tigers are numerous, and they believe that sometimes their relatives, when they die, become changed into tigers.—Argonaut.

The Bodleian Library.

In size and importance the Bodleian library at Oxford is the greatest university library in the world, and the greatest library not directly aided by the state. About seven rank above it in the world, but among English-speaking peoples only the British museum. It contains 2,750,000 printed literary pieces in perhaps 860,000 volumes. There are also about 40,000 manuscripts, not counting separate charters and deeds, which number about 18,500. The staff consists of sixty-eight persons. The number of readers averages more than 250 a day.—London Standard.

Obliging Conductor.

The fussy lady had noticed that the rude man sitting beside her on the street car had expectorated on the floor. The fussy lady immediately signaled the conductor, and that official came in to see what was wanted.

"Do you allow spitting in this car?" demanded the fussy lady.

"Well, no," replied the conductor. "But you can come out on the platform if you want to, lady."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Knew His Limitations.

"I don't want to brag about myself. I've done many foolish things in my time, but I've been wise in one way."

"What's that?"

"I never had an idea that I could paper a bedroom myself."—Detroit Free Press.

The Careful Wife.

"Wife, I wish you'd buy me a couple of five cent collar buttons. I need 'em badly."

"All right; just as soon as somebody has a sale."—Kansas City Journal.

Satisfactory.

Mrs. Gabb—Are your new neighbors all right socially?

Mrs. Tabb—Oh, yes—their children stand even lower in their studies than mine do.—Kansas City Star.

Twisted Logic.

Pat—So ye don't expect Miss Mulligan will accept ye? And why not? Mike—So that she will. It is always the unexpected that happens, Pat.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The desire of appearing clever often prevents one becoming so.—Rochefoucauld.

An Appeal

To The People of Pennsylvania

It is in the interest of the public—whose chief concern is good service and safety—that the Extra Crew Law now on the Statute books of Pennsylvania and other States be repealed. This law causes a waste of $1,100,000 annually in the employment of unnecessary men on the Pennsylvania System alone.

No one is more concerned than the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in securing maximum safety on its lines. Every train on this railroad has a full crew, and this extra expenditure adds nothing to safety or public convenience. The same money had much better be spent to remove grade crossings, improve tracks, signals, and bridges, and buy steel cars. This extra crew law, which compels unnecessary expenditures, is one of the factors which menaces the ability of this Company to pay present rates of wages to that great body of employes whose activities are needed.

The Public Service Commission should see to it that all trains are properly manned. Such action would amply protect employes and the public. We appeal to the people in their own interest, we appeal to our employes in their best interest, to ask their representatives in the next Pennsylvania Legislature to repeal the Extra Crew Law.

Samuel Rea,

President, Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

The Exception.

Uncle Zack, the stable man, enjoyed local repute as a weather prophet. Miss Cassie, coming down early one morning, found Zack on the back porch.

"Is the rain going to last all day, Zack?" she asked.

"Yessum, Ah reckin' it is."

"Why, Zack," Miss Cassie said, "I have always heard you say, 'Rain before 7, clear before 11.' Isn't that true?"

"Yessum, it's strickly true," Uncle Zack maintained stoutly, "jes' 'cepting it doan't apply to an all day rain, ma'am."—New York Post.

Only a Trifling Dejay.

Figg—Did you succeed in persuading your wife when she gets angry to count ten before she speaks? Fogg—Yes, but she's a very rapid counter.—Boston Transcript.

Rev. A. F. Weaver, of Lock Haven, formerly of Bellefonte, greeted old friends here between trains on Tuesday.

Robert D. Musser, of near Spring Mills, was a business visitor in town on Saturday and while here found time to call on old friends.

Samuel Sheffer, one of Bellefonte's best known citizens, has been critically ill for some days at his home on Curtin Street. His sons, A. Lester and Herbert, of Milroy, were here over Sunday because of the gravity of his condition.

Mrs. Harry Cooper and daughter, Miss Emeline Cooper, who have been here for the last three months with Mrs. Cooper's aunts, the Misses Benner, leave on Friday for Washington, D. C., and Dayton, Ohio, before returning to their home in Texas.

Alex E. Patton, of Curwensville, a student at Yale University, and well known among the younger folks in Bellefonte, recently had an exciting experience. He and his room-mate, who room in the Vanderbilt Dormitory, were awakened in the early morning by a bright light in their room and flames outside their windows. They escaped in their pajamas, and fought their way down the fire escape, the iron steps of which were so hot as to burn their feet. Running several squares they turned in a fire alarm in time to save the building.

Gregory Brothers announce that they now are making their own ice cream at their Candyland store, in the McClain block. A modern type of machine for making ice cream has been installed and has been in use constantly since Tuesday. The proprietors of Candyland further announce that in the manufacture of ice cream candies, soda water, etc., the most modern sanitary methods, only, are employed, and the highest grade articles used.

Messrs. Charles H. Rowland, S. J. Miller and Harry B. Scott, Republican nominees for Congress, State Senate and Assembly, will be present at a Republican campaign rally to be held at Milesburg on Saturday evening, October 22d. John Francies will also be in attendance and a rousing, big time is anticipated. Prior to the meeting there will be a street parade, headed by "Our Boys Band." Milesburg's streets will be lighted by electricity for the first time that night in honor of the event.

Penn State College defeated Ursinus 30—0 at State College, last Saturday. Penn State played a strong, aggressive game, showing marked improvement in form as compared with the game against Gettysburg one week previously. Next Saturday Penn State plays Harvard, at Cambridge, and supporters of the Blue and White look forward to a fast, exciting game. Bellefonte Academy was defeated, 16—6, by the Indiana Normal School, at Indiana, last Saturday. The Academy was weakened by the absence of one or two of the regular line-up. Next Saturday the Academy plays the Carlisle Indian Reserves, on the new Hughes Athletic Field, and the most spectacular game of the season on the home ground is predicted.

Dr. Emery Marvel, of Atlantic City, was an arrival in Bellefonte last week to look after his property, purchased from Mrs. Thomas R Hays. An advertisement announcing public sale of the property appears in another column of this newspaper.

Dr. J. Horace McFarland, of Harrisburg, president of the Civic Club of America, gave a very interesting talk in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening, his theme being "How to Beautify Bellefonte." Earlier in the day he spoke at State College.

A Suffrage Tea.

On Saturday afternoon a Suffrage Tea was given at the home of Mrs. Robert Mills Beach, and Miss Miles Blanchard.

A plan for canvassing the town to learn the sentiment on Woman's Suffrage was set on foot, and an announcement made of a convention of the Woman's Suffrage Party of Centre County, to be held on October 31st, at the same residence. This convention will be addressed by Miss Hannah J. Patterson, Chairman of the Woman's Suffrage Party of Pennsylvania.

This was the first of a series of teas which are to be given with the object of interesting the women of Bellefonte in the question of Woman's Suffrage.

There will be short talks, followed by discussions, and an opportunity to contribute to the support of the Woman's Suffrage Association of Penna, whose headquarters are in Harrisburg.

This Association is in need of all the help the Suffragets of the state can give them in order to carry on the work of the next twelve months.

The second one of these teas was given on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Harry Keller and Mrs. Edmund Blanchard at the home of the former.

These will be followed by others in the different parts of town. The idea is to invite one's neighbors and friends to an informal gathering, where there will be a subject to discuss over a cup of tea, and where an offering however small will be gladly received.

Vogel's Big Minstrels.

John W. Vogel, manager of the Big City Minstrels—half a hundred of them of ordinary size and extraordinary talent—is an enthusiast in his business and is thoroughly posted as to the origin and growth of the popular style of amusement he purveys. His Radium Palace is probably the most elaborate and costliest first part setting ever conceived. It was designed by M. Bucher, who originates all the drapes for Blanche Walsh, Belasco's Darling of the Gods, and Mrs. Leslie Carter's productions. The illumination will be supplied with 1000 incandescent lights and a number of the most powerful calciums at Garman's Opera House, Thursday, Oct. 29.
